Aviator to Drop Orange 'Bombs' in Exhibition at Mexico Fair

Joseph Pendhayn, the aviator, who will give exhibitions at the Mexico fair August 17 to 20, will give some idea of aerial warfare by dropping "bombs" when he flies over the fair grounds. Pendhayn will not use anything more explosive, however, than oranges. These are used by aviators extensively as they do no harm when dropped. Pendhayn is expected to show how the bombs are dropped on the enemy and the persons who witness the exhibition can gain some idea of what aerial warfare means.
